

SOME ITEMS NO PCV SHOULD Leave The GAMBIA WITHOUT!

#1 McDonalds Work Uniform

McDonalds Work Uniform

Prepare for future employment now by getting your McDonalds uniform from the used clothing markets in Farafenni, Kerr Pateh, and Serrekunda now. That way, you can say during the interview, "NO NEED to give me a uniform, I brought my own!" Thanks Peace Corps for looking out for me! (Comes with Cap, Tie, shirt, Pants)

AgFo Kit

If you ever wanted to rough it in the bush, you are going to need to pick up the necessary equipment. No real AgFo would be with any of these! You have your Nalgene (for your "hard wanjo"), a leatherman so you can fix things, and a bottle opener. It also includes a pair of khaki pants with zip off legs so you can convert to shorts when you finally bike out of the village.

Madonna / Titanic Stickers

Any real PCV is gonna have giant, oversized stickers of Madonna, Titanic, CityBoy, and "Allah is One" (with the green alien finger) on the back window of their car in the states.

Obnoxious Stickers

#7

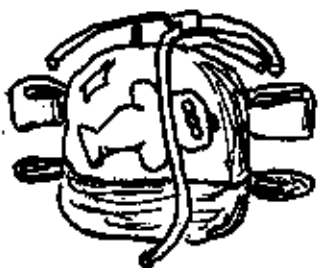

Fishbowl Beer Helmet

Known to some as the secret weapon behind Fishbowl's success at WAIST 2000, the Fishbowl decorated beer helmet enables you to sip beer (or amaretto sours) without putting down your glove, so you are prepared for the next fly ball. It even comes in one of two colors and dawns blinky, three eyed fish Mascot on the front.

10 Things I Hate About The Gambia

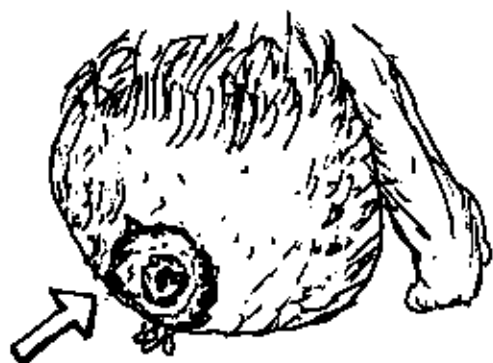

- I hate the way the kids shout out TOUBAB and the way they ask for Minties
- I hate the way the men stand at my door trying to pick me up with a finger up their nose
- I hate the way the women cook, adding chole and palm oil to all my dishes
- I hate the way that admin acts, treating us like little kids
- I hate having to bike 14 K to get a cold coke
- I hate having to beat down old women and men to get a spot on a motto
- I hate the fact that the beaches and towns are infested with bunsters
- and I especially hate the fact that in a couple of years I'll start to miss this place and forget all its evils

#8 Youssin N'dour Autographed Ice Pick

Any fan of West African music worth his salt needs to be a huge fanatic about Youssin N'dour. You've already got all his tapes, including the live "No More" single, and the "Official Member of the Gambia Youssin N'dour fan club" T-shirt, but do you have his limited edition Ice Pick for those January mornings in Basse?

Photo of a Boil on your Balls
Don't leave the Gambia without one of these! The only benefit to your torturous tour in the Gambia is the pictures you can take with you to show up back in the states. "Yeah, I really suffered in Gambia, and I've got this photo to prove it!" (Remember to take the photos of Leybatos and the PCV movie room out of your wallet beforehand.)

Unofficial Early COS Application

Not to be mistaken for the official Early COS Application (unless you want an official ET application.)

Name Sara Hossman
Site Essau
Primary Project DHT-Essau
Proposed Early Cos Date July 2001
Give Odds On Your Approval Chances better than the ag-fos.

Sketch probable facial expression upon arrival in America here →

REASON FOR LEAVING: (Note: Primary project being finished is NOT an acceptable response!!!)

This place is making me crabby and I just want to go home to a place where people know what logic is (and use it).

Choose all emotions that apply:

- (a) "Playing computer games at home with Domino's pizza is superior to Dope Wars at Fishbowl."
- (b) "There's nothing left of my primary project but eating sandwiches and jerking off dogs."
- (c) "If I hear Adam mention Bubbles the Chimp or Mersky Mersky Me one more time I'm going to boot."
- (d) "I can't top the service highlight of meeting the Stone(d) Man at Wasu Stone Circles (of D10 bill fame)."
- (e) "Been chased by a hippo one too many times." (We're sending this to Jackie so she can circle it.)
- (f) "I've been thumbing the dumper so long that I've got carpal tunnel."

Which previously ET'd volunteer do you admire most and why?: (We realize there are a lot to choose from...)

Jackie. Who else would have made such a well thought out ET & then come back in a month? Brilliance - you go girl - we miss you.

Most memorable moment with Tom Vehe: (Again, we realize there is a lot to choose from...)

The numerous mornings waking up at Fishbowl; walking out and seeing him passed out on the couch, the chair, the floor!

Proudest achievement during WAIST 2000 last year: (Spanking the Senegal PCCD's son's ass while dancing on the head table can only be claimed by at most five of you. Freaking with Mad Dog is available to all.)

Remembering scanning Kendra's face in the outfield. I'm sure there were more I just can't remember them.

Proudest achievement during service: (Yes, you can use your answer from the previous question.)

Driving the Barra ferry, surviving living in Barra Kessau without physically hurting a child. Teaching the "secretary" at the DHT to type and take a phone message.

Last PC Will and Testament: (USE SEPARATE SHEET)

By the time I leave all of my stuff will have been eaten by mice or termites so I have only one thing to give, and that's my hammock, to Dave.

State your final words of wisdom: (Note: "Let me out of this hellhole now!" is already claimed by Kevin M. and Kendra C.)

Enjoy the moments you can and always remember you are surrounded by other amazing people who will drink or cry with you during the moments you can't.

AND LATER...

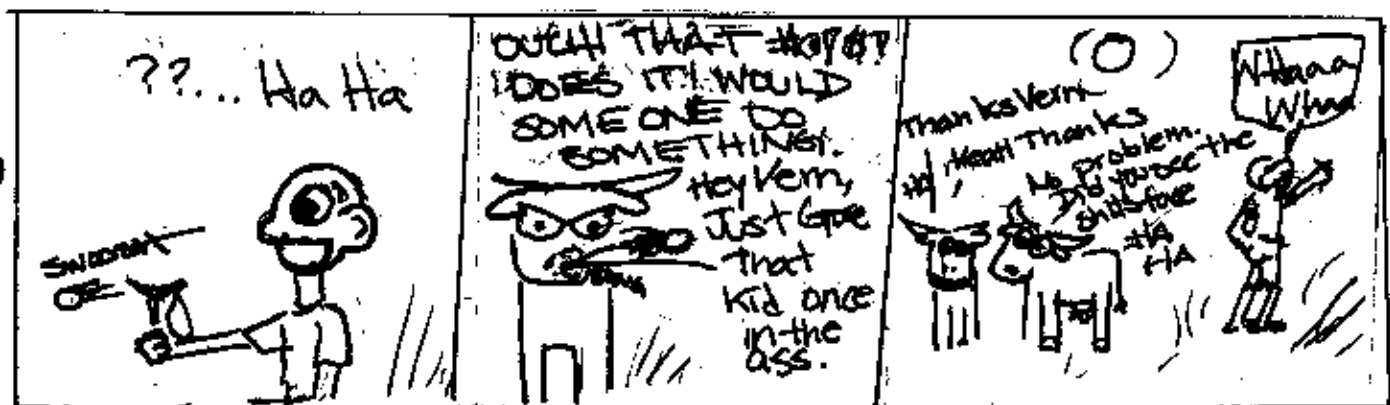

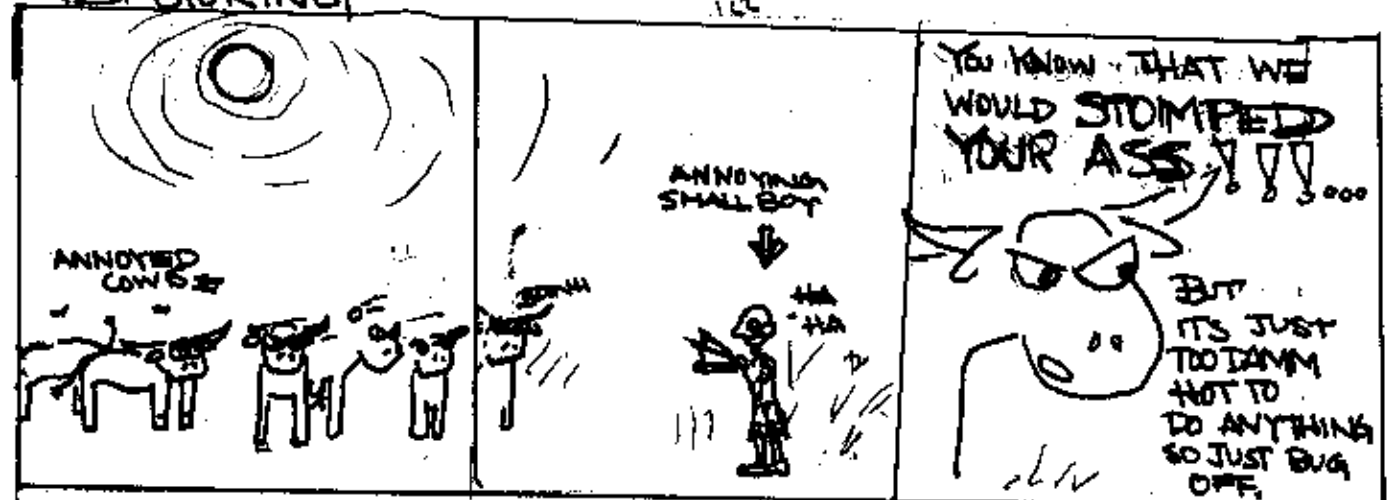

Hello,
 in case y'll were wondering what an average cow like me is doing here in the Gambia well I'm here as a ~~refugee~~ refugee from those inbreed Euro folks who decided to go on a Killing Spree. So far I like the Gambia, the Cows are a bit thin for me and you can only eat coas for so long. any ways
 heres what I found funny so far:

▲ - CHICKEN

The Gambians themselves, well... they definitely have a lot going for them. Just by the fact they don't kill us when they are starving is a major plus for the country. Another bonus is that they leave obvious loop holes in their fences to the gardens. Plus This is a good place to get sun but damm those small boys. Anyways, This is how I see the Gambia. If you don't get it, don't worry, its a cow thing.

Welcome back to Muppet Labs, The Gambia. We are constantly revamping, reorganizing, and upgrading ourselves. New ~~features~~ features you will be seeing in Muppet Labs includes:
 - straight lines

Page number so if the editors mix things up, you'll know

Also, we've finally deduced why M/Se Isn't Funny

Here is the Average Human Brain

And Here's Zack's Brain

We Assume Zack's brain sort of works the same way. Any way, the scientific nature of Muppet Labs causes it to be a left brain based creation. However, the artistic tendency that contribute to Comedy are based in the right hemisphere. We all know how much into constantly throwing Zack's head, crossing hemispheres is like crossing rock hair.

Bees Wax Soap

Ingredients:

- 10 Bars of Local Soap - Shaved
- 2 spoons of local Soda (ye) * warning - dye can cause chemical burns. be careful when handling. vinegar can neutralize it (for those who haven't seen Fight Club)
- 250 grams of bees wax
- 2 cups of oil (peanut, palm, etc.)

First, you melt the wax and mix in the oil

double boiler to melt wax

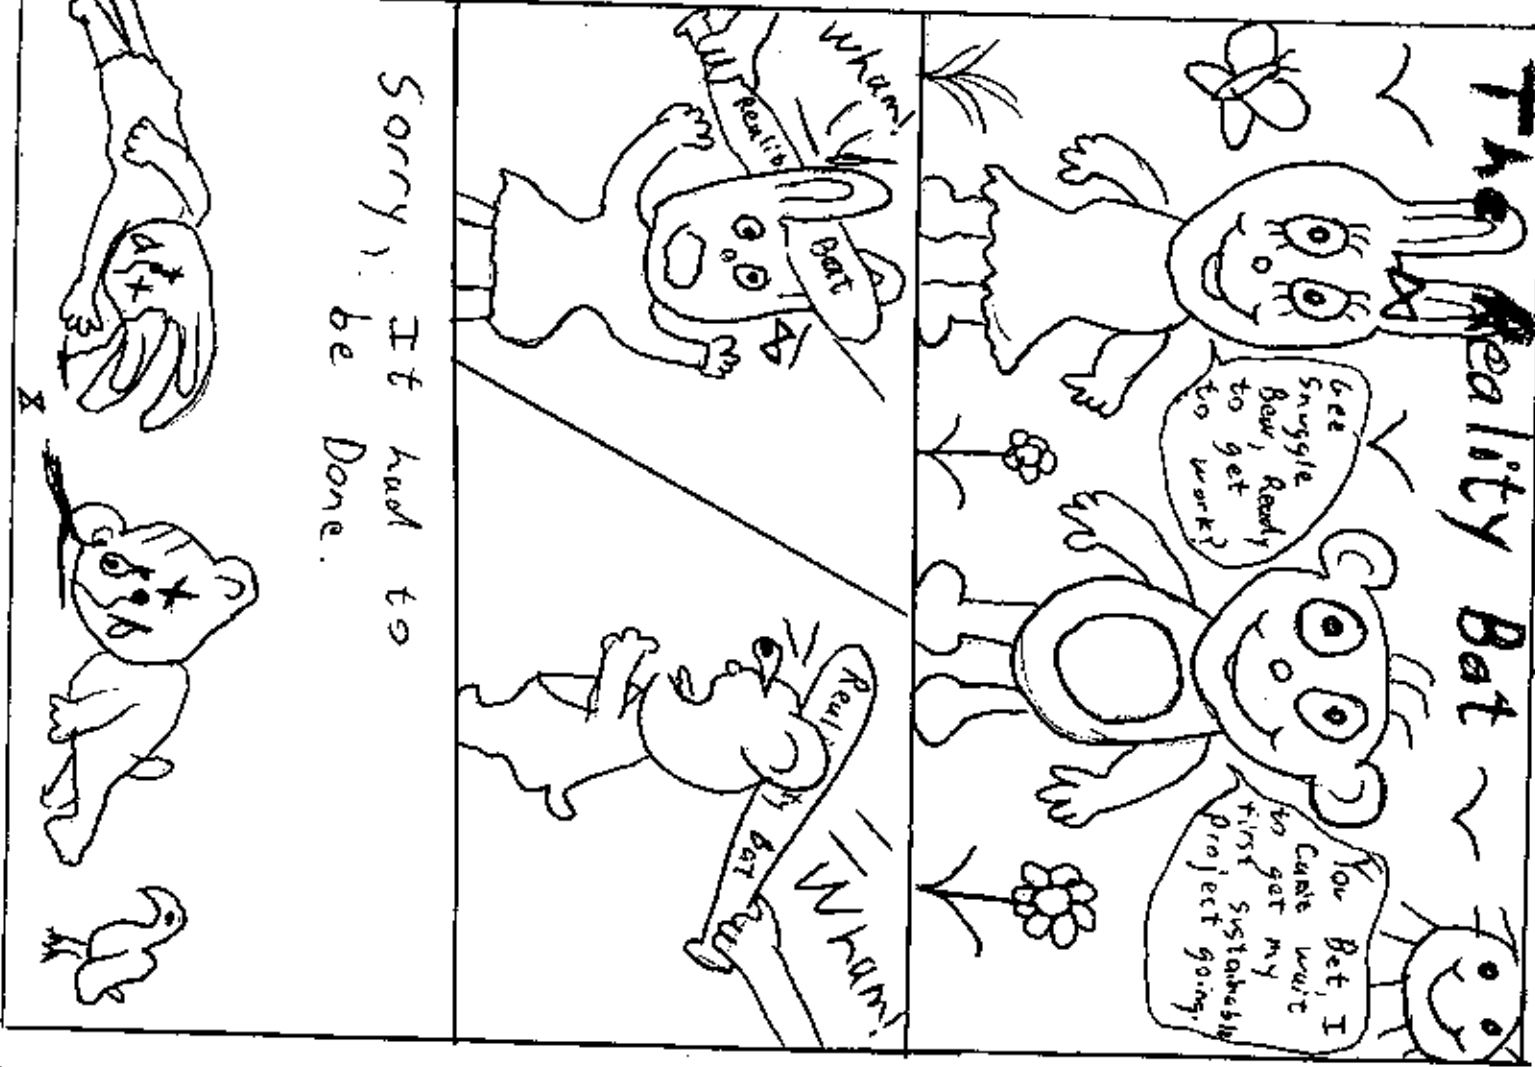

After that wax and oil are mixed, set aside

Now melt the shaved soap in another pot. Carefully add the soda and salt

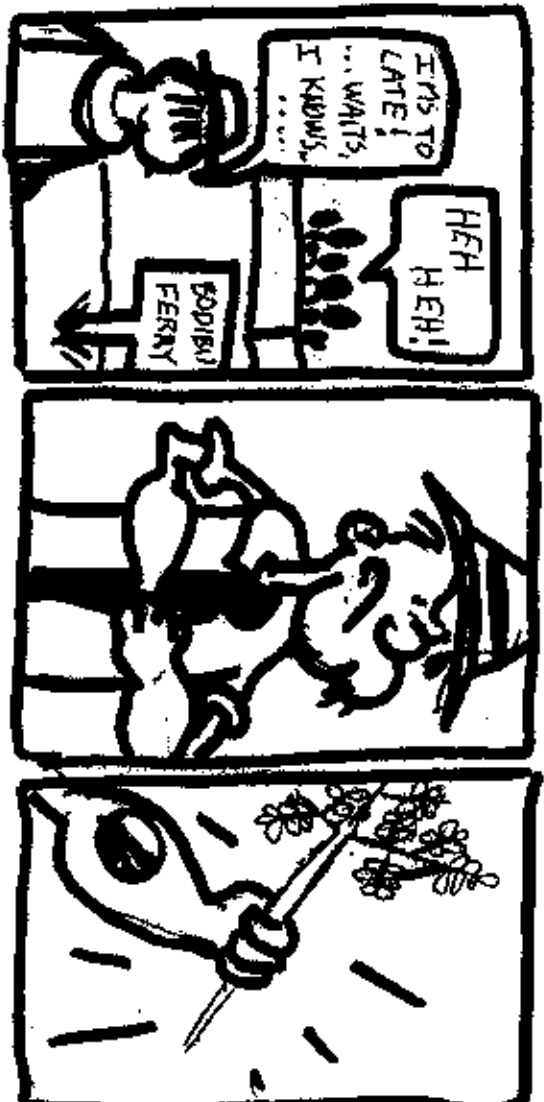

Finally, add the wax and thoroughly mix the wax and soap. Pour into molds and allow to cool cut and sell
